"THE SUFFRAGETTE"

After a couple of disappointing

and a reengagement of the hill, the

Booker Washington Theatre starts

Monday night with a bang that shows that's winning the plaudits of the patrons at each performance.

James "Travelin' On" Hart

opens with a fast and good sentimental show in excellent echo imitations of English, Chinese and German songs. We applaud.

With William S. Hart, the Warte has a graceful and mostly dressed team of singers and dancers. They sing

well and their hits will fit their fans and work well. The art of "The Jail House Show," new hits.

Tim and Bertie Moore are the "Surprise Special" on the program.

Their "Travelin' On" which is the most musical number in the stage work Tim ever put over.

It represents him doing the house work and Tim's wife, Bertie, doing his husband's work. He "sees a hard time" and "can't even sleep" but he turts the talk about Tim's wife who gets her hair done in record breaking time. The art is a scream.

"All Out" and Maudie Woodson

open with a bang that's a real sensation. Songs and dances. They are full of pep and keep the audience at high tension throughout their appearance.

cause of his promise of a dying mother. When his "daddy" dies "red" and open upon his bullying tormentor, the result is disastrous for the son and sends him off to hide his life in an outlaw who's a price on his head.

"My Boy" And "Fighting Hearts" At The Retina.

Jackie Coogan will be seen at the Retina Theatre in "My Boy" or Saturday.

Wm. (Bill) Falbreks in "Fighting Hearts" will be presented on Sunday. It is a composite of the player days on the Texas-Mexican border. In the picture he plays himself, a frenzied bull and performs many other hair-raising and daredevil stunts.

"The World's Champion," Chasing The Moon, St. Louis. A Stage Romance!

Wallace Reid's new Farce-comedy picture, "The Whistler's Champion," will be presented at the Pendleton Theatre on Saturday and Monday. The locale of the picture is England and the story concerns William Burroughs, a young man who has been given the degree of theology for which he is destined. He runs away from the paternal home and becomes a prize-fight champion, but in the end he gives up the boxing ring finally to achieve the desire of his life. There is said to be a wonderfully captivating love story and much humor in the picture.

Tom Mix will be seen in "Chasing The Moon" on Tuesday and Wednesday. Getting a good start in America, Tom Mix is now running speeds and distances greater than those Russel Nurnberg's. For his bewhiskered bandits spend down mountaintop roads to reach the city; he comes home to find that a professor has the only authority that he believes will save him. His sweethearts arrives in time to see him.

The special attraction for Thursday and Friday will be William Farnum in "A Stage Romance." The story concerns a young man of the house of Edmund Kean, the theatrical actor. Social intrigue among highest families. English comedies Kean and in a startling drama incident he comes home to find that he is not as he thought. It is said that he is as he is because of his friend the Prince of Wales. The picture is one of the most surprising ever seen on the screen.

The Bush For Broadway
NEW YORK, June 14.—The race for Broadway among theatrical beauties is on again. Several weeks ago when we last left the scene of the theatrical splendor we did not think that by such a short time we would have occasion to speak again at length on the subject. However, the Bush Terpsichore Lagoon have just started at the National Winter Garden with their new stage extravaganza "Strand! Strand! Strand!" and while it is not as fresh as it was up to expectations, indications are that it will enjoy a fine run at the theatre.

The garden is located in a section of New York that will not induce many colored people to visit there. We hope that the management will depend on any patronage from colored people although a heroic effort was made to draw them to see the picture. The Bush Terpsichore Lagoon is backtracking the production with the idea of placing it on Broadway.

It is said that the Bush Terpsichore is not the only theater to find itself appealing downtown. As we predicted sometime ago, the show now headed by the Whitney Brothers and called "The Bush Terpsichore" has gone to the Great White Way on June 14th as given out in the early days of the Goldwyn period. While the uninitiated may wonder what can be done on the Big Street, nor have we seen any steambath of the Bush Star Line taking on bargains. The picture is a diverting extravaganza for Liverpool. Perhaps the future will bring forth something worth while for the members of the Saks Fifth Avenue and Rodeo Drive, who have struggled long and heroically to get a立足点 at the theatre.

Ira Miller, brother of Journey Miller of Shubert fame arrived in town a few weeks ago immediately got to work. Now, Ira being busy with his wife and children, has had to run on Broadway, but he is returning a new show which he calls "Hurry On" and as he has had a taste and enjoyment of the stage he is determined that comes from the theatrical Promised Land when he put on the ill-fated "Put and Take" at the Tabernacle, we can't imagine what will be done and those up front when the word is given, and the plot will ring out for the Big Start.

New Comes Mr. Haumann
"Business Before Pleasure" An All Woods Story. While people of all walks of life and whatever they do run on Broadway, Mr. Haumann brought to Harlem for a week's run at the Lafayette the most colorful and most popular of colored people, that is the performers are all colored and they will seek to give their interpretation of a particular situation before people of all colors.

Others have tried this experiment in their own local but a part and parcel of the business of New York is that Henry Haumann is one of the race's greatest producers. Of course we never heard of Mr. Haumann, but he is the man who is the world's number one, who will change the world among colored people inside of a week. Well, watch and see.

The First Play
Whatever it, and it comes out, it will be well enjoyed from appearing at the producers and authors have not heard a word from them in a week. It is traveling with a company which is a group in which is growing ground and at this writing we have every reason to believe it. Although it is impossible to say exactly what it is, it is reported that before attended the first performance one and instead of being a paying guest.
